Are you Depressed?

You may be eligible to participate in a study investigating biological features of depression and how they can help predict treatment outcomes for patients.

Participants will be treated with a standard antidepressant for 8 weeks. Study visits will include answering questions about psychiatric history and symptoms, blood work, and brain scans.

You may be eligible if:

- You are an adult between the ages of 18 and 60
- Have Major Depressive Disorder (MDD)
- Are currently feeling depressed
